TAMIL NADU

- The Greater Chennai Corporation - has set up a gender lab at Amma Maligai in Ripon Buildings to ensure its existing and future urban infrastructure policies are gender-sensitive.
- ✓ Five consultants from the World Bank who are working on the project commenced discussions with various department heads on March 8 and have already begun field surveys.
- ✓ They will submit their findings that will define the civic body's policy of urban infrastructure and planning.
- ✓ Four more experts will be hired to study all data available on accessibility, mobility, safety, health and hygiene, climate resilience and social security.
- ✓ They will be from the field of urban planning, mobility, gender policy, and behavioral training.
- ✓ The urban policies with respect to the availability of clean and accessible toilets on pavements and streets, better street lighting at night, safe public transport and public spaces are usually planned, developed and executed by men.
- ✓ These policies are not designed keeping women or children in mind

WHAT IS A GENDER LAB

An office where experts on gender policy and urban planning study data available with the civic body on its existing urban infrastructure and make suggestions for gender-inclusive policies

FOCUS AREAS

➤ Clean, secure, accessible toilet facilities

➤ Adequate lighting and space for changing children's diapers in all public parks

➤ Provide adequate disposal options for menstrual products

➤ Provide paid opportunities for women and sexual and gender minorities to be included in the maintenance and long-term upkeep of the space

➤ Setting up of a network of public spaces that are accessible within a 250 metre distance from habitats

- ✓ To change this right from the policy level, the Chennai Corporation has now set up the gender lab on women's day as part of the Nirbhaya project implemented by the World Bank.
 - ✓ Along with this, a road safety cell will also be set up this week.
 - ✓ As part of the plan to implement various big budget projects, the specific needs of women will be taken into account.
 - ✓ This was the first such lab set up by a city corporation in the country.
- On March 11, US Consulate General in Chennai, Judith Ravin – honoured Tamil Nadu-based anti-caste activist and human rights defender Gowsalya Shankar
- ✓ Gowsalya was U.S. Mission India's nominee for the 2021 U.S. Secretary of State's International Woman of Courage (IWOC) Award.

- ✓ This award honors women who have demonstrated exceptional courage, strength, and leadership in acting to improve the lives of others, from families to communities to countries, often at great personal risk and sacrifice.
- ✓ U.S. Consul General Judith Ravin presented Gowsalya with an IWOC Award Certificate of Nomination at the event.
- ✓ Gowsalya was speaking at the event themed 'Courageous Women Inspire a Better World', at the US Consul General's residence in Chennai
- ✓ The programme was held in honour of Women's History Month, which is observed in March.
- ✓ Gowsalya has been fighting against caste-based violence since her husband, V Shankar was hacked to death in 2016 by a gang
- ✓ In her late husband's honour, Gowsalya launched the Shankar Social Justice Trust in March 2017 to fight atrocities against caste-based violence.
- ✓ The trust provides psychological, legal, and moral support to victims and builds awareness against social discrimination and injustice.

- ✓ Each March, the president of the United States designates Women's History Month to highlight the extraordinary achievements of pioneering women and girls who have built, shaped, and improved upon the societies
- ✓ The International Women of Courage award was first conferred in 2007
- ✓ Since then, the U.S. State Department has recognised more than 155 women from more than 75 different countries, who are nominated by the respective overseas U.S. diplomatic missions
