- ✓ Phase 2 includes the construction of seven new cancer hospitals.

- On April 28, IndiGo - became the first airline in the country to land aircraft using the indigenous navigation system GPS-aided geo-augmented navigation (Gagan) at Kishangarh airport in Ajmer, Rajasthan

FOR A SAFE AND SMOOTH FLIGHT

- ✓ The flight was conducted using an ATR-72 aircraft and landed at Kishangarh airport
- ✓ Gagan was jointly developed by the Airports Authority of India (AAI) and the Indian Space Research Organisation (Isro)
- ✓ The GAGAN Signal-In-Space (SIS) is available via the GSAT-10 and GSAT-8.
- ✓ When a flight approaches a runway for landing, GAGAN is utilised to provide lateral and vertical guidance.

- ✓ GAGAN uses a system of ground stations – in Delhi, Guwahati, Kolkata, Ahmedabad, Thiruvananthapuram, Bengaluru (Master Control Centre), Jammu and Port Blair – to provide necessary augmentation to the GPS navigation signal

- ✓ The Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) had issued a mandate for all aircraft registered in India after July 1, 2021, to be fitted with GAGAN equipment.
- ✓ Further, AAI has implemented GAGAN Message Service (GMS) in coordination with Indian National Centre for Ocean Information Services (INCOIS)
 - ✓ Under GMS, alert messages will be sent to fishermen, farmers, and disaster affected people during the occurrence of natural disasters, calamities, such as flood, earthquake etc.
- ✓ With the launch of new system, India joins the US, Japan and Europe, which have developed their own satellite-based augmentation system (SBAS).
- ✓ The SBAS is a navigation system, which builds on the Global Navigation Satellite Systems (GLONASS), and adds to the accuracy and integrity of these navigation tools
- ✓ Using these systems, pilots can land aircraft at smaller airports and airstrips using navigation guidance without expensive instrument-based landing systems being installed on the ground.
